

Agile Test Manager (f/m/d)

Location: Erfurt

For more than 18 years companies of all sizes rely on HighCoordination's management and IT consulting to solve relevant BI, planning and digitalization challenges - efficient, modern and reliable.

Our web-based visualization solutions, which are used on various analysis and planning systems (QlikView, Qlik Sense, Microsoft PowerBI, Excel, Jedox), are mainly developed with technologies like JS, TypeScript, HTML5/SVG/CSS3 and Java.

What can you expect?

As an agile tester / test manager you actively support the identification, introduction and improvement of all relevant processes, measures and tools within our agile development. You will be responsible for all QA aspects at our locations in Erfurt and Cochin (India). Your goal is to continuously improve our development process in the sense of "Inspect & Adapt" and to be able to supply our products continuously and sustainably in optimal quality.

Which requirements should you meet?

- Degree or apprenticeship in IT and at least 3 years of professional experience as a Software Tester
- Ideally, you've already worked in an agile environment with Scrum
- Ideally, you also have experience with test automation (e.g. with Selenium, JUnit, Jest, Karma)
- Know how to improve and coordinate test case creation and perform manual and automatic (regression) testing
- Certification as an ISTQB Certified (Agile) Tester is an advantage
- Strong analytical and conceptual thinking and skills
- Ability to understand complex facts, to present them convincingly, as well to moderate and bring about decisions in a team
- Very good German and English skills

Why us?

- Above-average salary system
- Trusted-working time model, with the option of home-office, development opportunities and team events
- An international team in a truly agile environment
- Short decision-making processes, directly and exclusively in the team
- Free drinks, fruits and healthy snacks
